TRADE OF THE WEEK

No Unfavorable Influences Developed to Encourage Croakers.

A REACTION IN SPECULATION.

Interesting Events in Realty Showing the Market is in Good Shape.

OFFICE AND STREET NEWS AND GOSSIP

It was reported on the street yesterday that William Bakewell, Esq., had sold his summer place at Arnold station, on the Allegheny Valley Railroad, to the Rural Improvement Company at a price close to $75,000 cash.

Business of the Week. Bad weather during the week was detrimental to general trade, but transactions were large in the aggregate, exceeding those for the same time last year.

One of the most important transactions in realty during the week was the sale by Liggett Brothers of the premises at 1624 1/2 street, between Walnut street and East End, two brick dwellings, for $23,500.

Looking for a Site. A committee of ladies having in charge the interests of an aged people's home, have been devoting considerable time to the selection of a site for the proposed quarters.

Improvement of Irwin Avenue. Owners of property fronting on Irwin avenue, Squirrel Hill, at a meeting yesterday decided to let a contract at once for the grading and paving of that avenue from Forbes street to the center of the street.

Another Large Warehouse. Two more of the Cherry alley mysteries have changed ownership. Black & Baird sold during the week 145 Cherry alley and 145 West street to the Central District and Printing Telegraph Company for $11,750 cash.

A Sale Falls Through. The Armstrong property, consisting of nine acres located at the northeast corner of Forbes street and East End, was sold to a party who has not yet been named.

Funding the Debt. Now that the consolidation of the Edison General and the Thomson-Houston companies is under way, the management is considering plans for taking care of a big funding debt which is assumed by the new corporation.

Business News and Gossip. Bad weather is holding back the spring trade and saving the fruit crop. The market for wheat is quiet, but the price is firm.

NO MORE BULL FAKES. Every Item of News Favors the Bear Party in the Wheat Pit—Everybody Turns to the Selling Side—Corn Quiet—Oats Holed in—Oats—

CHICAGO. There was a decidedly bearish feeling in the market during most of the week, and prices were generally lower than they were a few days ago.
